

HIS 131 : Foundations of World Civilization

This course is a survey of the history of mankind from its beginning to the present. Emphasis will be placed on the development of basic institutions, cultural achievements, and historical connections that help students to understand the present, and plan for the future.

Credits 3