

MIL 320 : Advanced Military Leadership

This course is a continuation of the development of student competencies and confidence through intermediate leadership, technical, and tactical instruction. Students lead small groups in accomplishing tasks of increasing complexity. Significant training in oral briefing and time management during time- constrained and stressful situations is used to improve decision-making skills. This course also examines the importance of ethical decision making in improving team performance. Students are required to participate in leadership development labs. This class meets three times a week in accordance with the fall/spring schedule of classes.

Credits 3