

ENG 238 : African American Literature I

This course a survey of African American contributions to American literature from the earliest African American writings up to the Harlem Renaissance (1917), giving attention to all literary genres, and with a particular focus on the following literary forms and cultural influences: the Middle Passage, the Slave Narrative, the Antebellum period, and Reconstruction.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

or ENG 199–200.

Prerequisite Courses

ENG 131

ENG 132