

GEO 231 : World Regional Geography

This course is a survey of the principal land mass regions of the world —North America, Africa, Latin America, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia. Topics include: climate, topography, natural resources, demographics, agriculture, and industrial development.

Credits 3