

SPE 230 : Play Production

This course is an introduction to play production, including acting, directing, technical work, house management, and costuming. The class will have the responsibility for the semester's production of a play.

Credits 3