

SPED 231 : Introduction to the Study of Exceptional Children

This course will provide an overview of the various exceptionalities and an introduction to basic educational services and procedures as they relate to providing for the academic/behavioral needs of students identified as disabled. Field Experiences Required.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

None