

ART 435: Ceramics II

Ceramics II is an advanced course in studio ceramics. This course continues the development of aesthetic concepts and construction techniques with clay in the exploration of vessel and non-vessel forms. Each student will design and execute a series based on his/her interest and skill. Students will receive further instruction in glazing and firing techniques. Emphasis will be on wheel thrown objects, both functional and non-functional. Fall

Credits: 3

Program: Art and Art Education