

BUS 231: Microcomputer Applications for Business

This course is a study of business application software such as spreadsheets, databases, word processing, desktop publishing, and graphics for business presentations.

Credits: 3

Program: Business