

BUS 234: Principles of Microeconomics

This course is a study of the basic factors acting on producer and consumer, including supply and demand, prices, markets, governmental policy in regard to business, and labor.

Credits: 3

Program: Business