

HUM 130 : African American Heritage

This course is a study of African American life from its African origins to the present. Special attention is given to social structures, religion, folklore, political forces, history, art, music and geography.

Credits 3