

MAT 233: Introduction to Statistics

This course covers statistical change, statistical inference, statistical design, organizing, creating, and summarizing data (such as implementing box plots, histograms, cumulative frequency plots), probability concepts, estimation, chance phenomena, simulations, and tests of significance (decision-making).

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: MAT 132 or MAT 134.

Program: Mathematics