

MAT 333: Differential Equations

This course is a study of equations of the first order, linear equations of higher order, existence and uniqueness, the LaPlace Transform, numerical methods, applications in order to formulate, represent, and analyze mathematical models derived from real-world contexts.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: MAT 241.

Program: Mathematics